Marriage in Morocco is a highlight of the society and a very beautiful and colourful tradition, bringing together family and friends for a very festive event. According to the Moroccan tradition, the marriage takes place in three stages:

- The Hammam: Organized on the eve of the marriage, the meeting at the Hammam is done to purify the body and always includes soaping with black soap and a vigorous scrub.
- The Henna: The Nekkacha, a specialist in painting henna designs on hands and feet of the bride with traditional motifs.
- The Ceremony: The bride & groom exchange the rings drinking milk and eating a date to symbolize life's sweetness and fruitfulness. The Neggafates dress the bride & groom in the traditional attire customary to the different regions of Morocco and the honeymooners go around the room on a Amariya carried by young men dressed for the occasion.

One Thousand and One Nights

Enjoy our Caidale tent in the gardens and our wedding Gazebo with its floral decoration is the ideal place to hold your ceremony of wedding vows. Sit as royalty in chairs while entertaining your guests and loved ones. Poufs & lush pillows comfort you as lanterns with candles brighten your evening. Traditional tea service is prepared as stars light up your ceremony.

Negafa

The marriage ceremony is held in traditional manner by the Gnaffa and assistants. Live out multiple traditional wardrobe and traditional accessories and jewellery worn throughout the evening. A Amariya, hoisted by four men who will be dressed in typical Moroccan attire. will carry towards your guests.
